PERSONAL LIBERTY LEAGUE LAUNCHED WITH 5,000 MEMBERS.

T. Hitcheock, Jr., Save the Movement Should Extend All Over the Country and That Gen. Sanford Should Be the Presi-Cent-Plan and Scope of New Body.

As one result of the passage of the Agnew-Hart anti-betting bills at Albany, racing men already have launched a movement tooking toward favorable legislation which The Personal Liberty League has been formally organized with 5,000 enrolled members as a starter. It is strictly non-partisan, and its membership will not be restricted exclusively to racetrack men. Opponents of pro-hibition, advocates of Sunday baseball games and theatrical shows, lovers of scientific giove contests between pugilists of note, turiness men and all other citizens who do not wish to be ruled by the reform element, which is well organized all over the country. will be united under one head. Then, banded together in powerful array, the Personal Liberty League will have enough voters enthe respect and attention of legislators and venue, Brooklyn, is the temporary secretary of the Personal Liberty League and all appl ations for buttons indicative of membership should be sent to him. No other perso has been authorized to accept either signa-tures or contributions. Secretary Smith sent out this outline of the league yesterday. "The Personal Liberty League has been organized to provide a means of concentrat-ing the influence of all those who sympathize the movement against abortive legislation which infringes upon personal inde-pendence. It has found its reason for being in the tendency for reform—perhaps honest in its inception but tyrannical and morally confiscatory in its development-which has re unjust and deprivative to a degree of remonal rights which a century of democracy has led us to regard as inalienable. The league is non-partisian. The candidates whem it supports will be those who, irre-spective of party, stand for a legislative spirit of personal freedom justly accruing to our rights as citizens of the United States.

The league is not entering the lists as a universal opponent of reform. It proposes, to take its stand unequivocally and with all the power that its membership an influence against legislation which un-ustly curtails the personal liberty of the ers of this community. It believes that it lies within the province of each man's individual judgment to decide whether or not he shall enjoy a day in the open air and incidentally place wagers on any contest of skill or endurance. It believes that there is a spirit despotic injustice in any legislative enactment which says to the citizens of New York. You shall not chance your money in this or that innocent amusement, 'just as there would be in one ordering the expenditure of each man's income in certain specified ways. And is with the idea of combating such exorlitant and unfair legislative demands that the Personal Liberty League has been orranized. Its purpose is to reform reform; to remedy inasmuch as it may the hysterical radicalism which is stampeding the judg ment of our legislators.

"Thousands of men who labor daily in the stores, offices and shops find their only recreation-in their weekends at baseball, racing, rowing or other forms of sport. Every kind of outdoor amusement has its particular ap-peal for them. On their exercise in the open air are dependent their health and happiness. It is therefore to be the endeavor of the ague to advance the outdoor pastimes of the people to the highest possible plane and to protect these pastimes against any in-fringement which will lessen their value as Ithful avocations for the working classes Only by an organization of this kind can this accomplished. Only by unity and constant insistence upon personal liberty in our sport can an organized effort be directed against those whom narrowness and bigotry have

Buttons are now ready for distribution. They are of silver, displaying the Statue of Liberty, with the words 'Personal Liberty sague' enamelled in white letters on a blue packground. All voters who believe in the league's standards are requested to forward their names and addresses for enrolment. The membership fee is 50 cents, with 25 cents as monthly dues. Fees and dues will be used

Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., who lived a number of years abroad and who returned only a short time ago from a stay of a couple of nonths in England, said a few days ago at Gravesend in discussing the repeal of the

Percy-Gray law:
"I have been struck with the forcefulness and appropriateness of the remarks of Gen. Stephen Sanford of Amsterdam, N. Y., who situation gave it as his opinion that the beasted freedom of this country was becoma thing of the past. His comment of France as the country which he liked best because of the personal liberty which was enjoyed by its people would be indorsed by Il who have spent any length of time in tha country and have observed the contented ondition of all classes.

The curtailment of the privileges of any nation means a deterioration of citizenship, and I am not alone in the opinion that the cordovette, 2:14/5; Charles Weilands Dr. Cordovette, 2:14/5; Charles Weilands Dr. Charles for the last two years will result in a tremendous papiesing which will manifest itself at the poils, if not next November, before another year has passed. Already there is a great revulsion of feeling in this State sealing those who have taken away the living of thousands of men and practically confiscated millions of dollars worth of property. I refer to the great sport of racing. There is no more actuse political in this State to-day than Louis F. Payn of Chatham. Mr. Fayn has his finger on the political pulse, and his years of service and wide acquaintable the state have made him a competent atthority in matters of this kind. He says that the attempted destruction of racing will cost the Republican party 100,000 votes mer fall. It will cost them more than that if the countiess thousands of voters in this State whose rights are being menaced will ashed shoulder to shoulder and assert themselves as free men should.

The time is ripe for the formation of present liberty legaues throughout this country, but more especially in this great Character of the state of the promotion of voters who have fathers, brothers, some and other relatives, and so the endless shall and the proposed of the supplex who would easerly enroll themselves in the bigst enroyed to the utmost the few days of sport with the tracters and pacers as ingife to the party and the proposed provides and the proposed provides and the proposed provides and the promotion of yoters who have fathers, brothers, some and other relatives, and so the endless shall not rache you will be permitted to do what they wish this large stable of horses and his natural for the proposition of the promotion of yoters who have fathers, brothers, some and other relatives, and so the endless shall not be promotion of yoters who have fathers, brothers, some and other relatives, and so the endless shall not recomply the provides and the proposition of young the proposition of the propo drastic wave of prohibition of various kinds which has been sweeping the United States for the last two years will result in a tre-mendous uprising which will manifest itself as they ever did for the big stakes and purses on the racetracks of the Jockey Club.

"All that this Personal Liberty League

needs is a proper launching, and I have noticed already on the racetracks and occasionally on the streets of New York that many men are wearing small buttons with the emblem of liberty thereon, which shows that the work has already begun. That it will prosper and continue until we shall have once more come into our own is my firm belief. No one believes in indiscriminate gambling, but the efforts of the well meaning reformers have gone beyond reason, and they will not succeed in effecting their purpose, but will create re-centment in the minds of the people at large, who believe they are entitled to a certain amount of personal liberty under the Constitution of this geat country. Gambling is not wicked in itself; it is foolish; but it has existed and does exist in every civilized country. Experience has proved that it can be regulated but not suppressed."

The racing situation will be somewhat cleared up this week if court decisions in the different test cases are handed down. The Bischoff injunction will come up for a hearing this morning, also the Collins habeas corpus proceedings. Racing men are confident that when the courts have defined the legal meaning of the word "wager" there will be com-paratively plain sailing. While there was no open betting at the track last week, private wagers must have been made on the various races. But many well posted men say now that the public placed wagers in town with handbook men and poolroom before going to the track, the wagers to be settled the following day. Altogether it looks as if the authorities would have a hard time enfercing the new betting law because of a general lack of evidence.

There will be more high class racing at Sheepshead Bay this week. The Equality Stakes, for three-year-olds and upward, one mile, will be run te-morrow. On Wednes day the features are the Surf. for two-year olds, five and a half furlongs, and the Mermaid. for three-year-old fillies, one mile and a furlong. The Rosebud, for two-year-old fillies, five furlongs, and the Swift, for three year-olds, seven furlongs, will be decided to-morrow. Friday's attraction is the Sheepshead Bay Handicap, at a mile. The card for Saturday will bristle with red letter events. The Beacon Steeplechase, at about events. The Beacon Steenlechase, at about two miles and a half, will have a good field of jumpers. The $25,000 Great Trial Stakes, for two-year-olds, six furiongs, Futurity course, will be centested by J. E. Madden's Fayette and Sir Martin, J. R. Keene's Casque and Helmet, H. P. Whitney's Hillside and Bobbin and other good juventies. The $25,000 Coney Island Jockey Club Stakes, for three-year-olds, one mile and a half, which has taken the place of the American Derby, will attract Colin or Celt, both of whom will have to carry 129 pounds; Dorsante, who with a seven pound allowance gets in with 119; Angelus, Hessian, King James, Stamina and others.

Angelus, Hessian, King James, Stamina and others.

A fine card is offered for to-day. The feature is the Coney Island Handicap, at six furlongs, Futurity course, in which Roseben, Jack Atkin, Timber and other crack sprinters are carded to start. The Daisy Stakes, for two-year-olds, five furlongs, turf course, is another attraction, with Hillside, Harrigan and Rostrum possibly the best. In the Eurus, for two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs, Futurity course, Wamba, Hillside and Edward look formidable. In the Commando, for three-year-olds, at a mile, Hessian, Jubilee and Robert Cooper figure well. In the Loantaka Handicap, at six and a half furlongs, turf course, Aletheuo, Far West and Baby Wolf look like factors, In the Runnymede Selling race, at a mile and three-sixteenths, Beauclere, Bad News and Monfort have good chances. The entries follow:

In Great Britain the officers of the Automobile Association have appointed a committee to devise ways of stopping reckless driving, the committee being made up of members of the association who have had long experience as motorists. Representatives of the association who have been engaged for some time in making observations of the motor traffic at important points on the main roads have reported that the really reckless drivers make up but a small minority of the great number of motorists. It is planned to have careful investivations made of all cases of reskless or fast driving reported by the A. A. patrols, who cover certain territory on bleycles to warn A. A. members of speed traps and dangerous spots along the roads.

When Automobile Association members still persist in driving recklessly, after having been warned by the officers of the association, they will be requested to resign from the organization. Automobilists who are not members of clubs or societies will be reported to their organizations, and those who are unattached will be reported to the police. It is expected that this plan of dealing with the small but extremely troublesome minority of automobilists who have done so much to make motoring unpopular in Great Britain will result in greatly diminishing the computer cars. have good chances. A great many motorists and especially those who are driving their first car, appear to be of the opinion that the fan oh a water cooled car is of practically no importance. The proof of the prevalence of this idea is shown by the great number of fans that are out of order. Generally it will be found that the fan has been allowed to remain out of order because the best has been broken and the driver did not think it necessary totake the few minutes that would be required to repair it, allowing it to remain out of order until he had nothing else to do before fixing it again. Fans are placed on cars for good and sufficient reasons however and should be kept in good order at all times. This is especially true during hot weather, for all means of keeping the cylinders cool and preventing them from overheating should be attended to. If the fan is kept going properly the engine not only will be less likely to become overheated, but the power plant will do its work in a much better manner. out a programme that was high class from start to finish. Oscar Goerke were thrown from their wheels when William and Maurice Vanden Dries took a tumble. Hill also captured the special prize offered for the winner of the greatest number of laps.

Frank L. Kramer won both of the professional events. He made a wonderful sprint in the final heat of the half mile handicap, which he won in the fast time of 56 4-5 seconds. Oliver Dorlon was three lengths shead as he entered the last turn, but Kramer caught him in the homestretch.

The five mile open professional had twenty-four starters and the dollar lap prizes kept the bunch moving. Patsy Logan was the most energetic lap prize collector, gathering in nine of them. John Bedell, with Krebs hanging on, went up into the lead two laps from home, but Fogler, followed by Kramer, took the lead just before the bell rang. Fogler raced hard all during the last lap, but Kramer, raced hard all during the last lap, but Kramer passed him near the tape, leading him over the line by two feet. The summaries:

The officers of the Automobile Club of Philadelphia have started a campaign among the motorists of the Quaker metropolis and visinity to stop reckless driving as far as possible by requesting drivers to exercise more care than they have been doing. The club has sent out the following notice to all automobile owners of the city.

The Automobile Club of Philadelphia has received complaints from the Lower Gwyneed Township authorities in regard to the manner in which automobiles are driven at the crossings of the Bethlehem, Sumneytown and Penllyn pikes at Springhouse in Lower Gwyneed Township. The feeling in the township is not against the speed at which automobiles are driven on straight stretches of road with no crossings. The complaints are that drivers do not give half of the road to teams and do not slacken speed at this crossing, which is conceded to be dangerous. There are now no traps in this section. We ask the assistance and cooperation of every automobile driver in Philadelphia, and we request you to bring this to the attention of your chauffeur, if you do not drive yourself. If complaints of this character can be met by inducing motorists to comply with reasonable requirements without resort on the part of the authorities to legal proceedings it will be very much to the advantage of all motorists in this part of the State.

America and France the Only Absentees From Olympic Regatta.

ROWING.

America and France are the only countries not to be represented in the Olympic games regatta which is scheduled to take place on the Thames at Henley, England, on July 28 The arrangement of the British Olympic council was that Canada, Belgium, Holland, Ger-many and the United Kingdom have until June 30 to send in their entries, so the 'makeup of the crew that will represent England will not be known until then. Rumor has it now that the British eight will be a pick of the topnotch scullers available. Of course the Belgians, who from their two victories for the Grand Challenge cup are expected to be the topnotch souliers available. Of course the Belgians, who from their two victories for the Grand Challenge cup are expected to be the most dangerous contenders, will be the same as for the last two years. That England will make a great effort to take the measure of the Belgians there is no doubt.

Some of the entries from other countries have been made known. There is a crew from the Norsk Foroning for Pordract, Christiania, Norway, and one from the Federation Hongroise des Sociétés d'Averon, Budapest, Hungary. There are two entries from Italy—the Aniene Club of Rome and the Lario Club of Como. The Federation Hongroise of Budapest has an entry in the fours and so has the Lario Club of Como. This latter club has a nomination in the pair in Giuseppi Sinigaghe and Anibalo Bonetta. The Continental entries in the sculls are Ernest Keller, Federation Hongroise Sociétés d'Averon; Gluo Cisbatti, Arno Club, Pisn, and Glovanni Brumalti, Aniene Club, Home.

The senior four barge crew of the Harlem R. C., which rowed such a slashing race on the Hackensack last Saturday, will be kept in training and will enter the senior event in ali the local regattas during July. This means they will race at the Long Island regatta. Hudson River regatta and New York Bay regatta. Toward the end of the month the men will take to a shell and have a go at the fours in the national regatta. No such husky four have been seen together in a long time and they will row: John Hoben, stroke: John J. Ryan, 3; J. D. V. Breen, 2; and Hugo Nonenbacker, bow. Capt. Jack Nagle purchased a new four oared shell from Ward yesterday for the use of the crew.

Menibers of the Metropolitan R. C. engaged in a series of sports yesterday, and those who won events were John O'Regan, John Schultz. P. Grenhart, T. Slattery, M. Sweeney, F. Berker and H. Webb.

"Count" Glannini, coach of the New York A. C., is getting his boats and rigging in order, and after a week or so will begin real work with the senior eight, four, double and Durando Miller in the single.

SECRETARY BACON AT THE OARS. Harvard and Yale Equal Choices for Next Thursday's Boat Race.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 21 .- Both the Harvard and Yale rowing squads escaped the sweltering heat to-day by excursions out on Long Island Sound. The Yale oarsmen were guests of Walton Ferguson aboard his steam yacht Christabel, and the Red Top athletes were taken for a sail on Assistant Secretary of State Robert L. Bacon's steam yacht, Margaret II., which he recently charlaunched a pair oar this morning and with his son. Robert, Jr., rowed a few stretches up and down the river. Mr. Bacon, Sr., is an old Harvard oar and still handles his sweep and down the river. Mr. Bacon, Sr., is an old Harvard oar and still handles his sweep with the agility and cleverness of days past.

At Marvard's camp it is reported that all four mile speed trials have lended. The varsity eight have been sent three times over the full course since their arrival from Cambridge. Yale having covered the four miles but once, Harvard's time in the three instances was faster than Yale's. Coach Kennedy has been trying new tactics this year, having his men row continuously for eight or nine miles up and down stream and getting a line on his men from an endurance standpoint. This may explain why Kennedy has not tried his varsity crew more frequently over the entire course.

Every coarsman at Broadview and Red Top is reported in fine health to-night and the coaches ere trying their best to keep their respective crews from going stale. The practice will be resumed to-morrow morning and gradually taper off until Wednesday night, the eve of the great aquatic struggles.

A large fleet of yachts already has arrived in the upper and lower harbors and the prospects are good for a handsome marine pageant along the course on race day. Harvard was a slight favorite until Fish was suddenly taken out and replaced by E. Cutler, and betting is now on an even basis. That a corking good race will be seen here is the option of all who have followed the regattas every year.

TREND OF THE GOLF SCHEDULES

STATEN ISLAND CHAMPIONSHIP THIS WEEK.

Ward, the Titleholder, No Longer Eligible -Dates Announced for Olympic Team Match and Several Tournaments Tiffany's New Record at Twanifskill. This year's Staten Island golf championship will be at the Fox Hills Golf Club on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The holder, John M. Ward, who won the title also in three other years, will not compete, as he is now dentified with Long Island as a Babylon resident and no longer a member at Fox The qualifying round will be at eighteen holes for two sets of sixteen, and no less than nine prizes will be in play. The winner of the ournament will be allowed to retain the Col Branch trophy for a year, and he will take outright a beautiful solid silver cup as winner of the first sixteen, besides a souvenir rep-lica of the Branch trophy.

ner up in the first sixteen, a solid gold medal for low score in the qualifying round and silver cups for the winners of the second six-teen and first and second beaten eights. On Saturday there will be an eighteen hole handicap, a gold medal being the prize for the best gross and a silver loving cup for the est net score. The committee has ruled stimies must be played in the preliminary match play rounds.

At a meeting of the Fox Hills Golf Club
last Saturday $1,000 was subscribed by the members for further improvements to the course. With this extra money added to the egular appropriation the green committe will have a free hand in the way of finishing touches to the superb course.

Gilman P. Tiffany of the Powelton Golf Club, who captured the championship of the Hudson River Golf Association for the fifth time at Briarcliff last Saturday, won outright two low score cups and two for match play, while he will have his name inscribed on the valuable and artistic championship plate for the second time. Another victory and the plate will join the first championship

Although squelched in Great Britain this month, the golf tournament was a success at the Olympic games at St. Louis, George S. Lyon of Canada defeating H. Chandler Egan in a sensational final. A souvenir of that tournament, the Olympic team trophy, will be played for on July 11 at the Rock Island (III.), Arsenal Golf Club. During the week succeeding the amateur championship of the Western Golf Association will be held over the same course. This organization holds the Olympic trophy, which is played for on the day before the national amateur when that competition is in the West and in other years on the day preceding its own championship. Canada always has sent a team. The Metropolitan Golf Association team won the Olympic trophy last year at Euclid. It is for teams of four from golf associations and not for club teams. Members of teams from outside the Western Golf Association territory may play in the championship tournament as competitors for all cups and prizes except the championship title, for which only residents are eligible.

The tenth annual tournament of the League of Connecticut Golf Clubs will be at the New Haven Country Club, July 8-11. Entries must be made through C. H. Zimmerman, P. O. box 152, New Haven, before July 7. Only members of clubs eligible who are residents of Connecticut may enter, yet New Yorkers always have a special interest in the outcome, for three of the league organizations—the Brooklawn of Bridgeport. Wee Burn of Stamford and Fairfield of Greenwich—also belong to the Metropolitan Golf Association. Charles, H. Seely of Wee Burn, now champion for the second time of the M. G. A., has been Connecticut champion three different years.

This year the annual championship of the Central New York Golf League will be within halling distance, for it is to be at the Albany Country Club, July 7-11. It is eleven years old, and T. M. Sherman, son of the Republican candidate for Vice-President, has won the title three times.

All but the match between R. D. Lapham, All but the match between R. D. Lapham, 7, and J. L. Tenney, 13, were decided at the Apawamis club last Saturday in the first round for the governors cup. The results: F. A. Moore, 11, beat W. H. Brown, 23, 2 up and 1 to play; R. P. Walden, 13, beat J. B. Elmendorf, 11, 4 up and 2 to play; B. C. Fuller, 7, beat F. E. Lally, 15, 2 up and 1 to play H. A. Sherman, 9, beat W. A. Pratt, 13, 4 up and 3 to play on 36 holes after a tle; F. S. Wheeler, 7, beat J. McMurtrie, 5, 3 up and 2 to play; D. P. Birnle, 19, beat B. B. Laurence, 19, 7 up and 6 to play; G. H. Barnes, 7, beat II. B. Clark, 7, 1 up.

It has been arranged to open the new clubhouse, built to replace the one destroyed by fire, during the Apawamis invitation tournament on July 2, 3 and 4. The sleeping rooms will not be ready but the restaurant, locker and reception rooms will be put in commission.

FRANCES WINS YACHT RACE. Smallest Boat in the Big Fleet Captures the

over all and owned by G. W. Robinson of the Harlem Yacht Club, won the first prize in the yacht race from Whortleberry Island to the West Harbor here. She was the twentieth to finish, but on account of her length she got 5 hours 12 minutes allowance for the 100 miles, and this gave her a margin of 1 hour 26 minutes 50 seconds over the Nutmeg.

Thirty yachts started in this annual event of the New York Athletic Club at 5:10 o'clock last Saturday afternoon and raced all night through the Sound. The Nutmeg, owned by M. C. Jones of the Boston Yacht Club, which had come around the Cape especially for the race, was the first to finish. She entered the harbor at 10:50 o'clock this morning, and just six minutes behind her was the Notos, one of the largest yachts in the fleet. The boats had good winds during the night, generally from the west, and made good time.

Five prizes were offered. The first goes to the Frances, the second to the Nutmeg, and the third to the Little Rhody II, owned by C. F. Tillinghast of the Bristol Yacht Club, which was the third to finish. The Nutmeg also wins the prize for the best time made over the course. The two other cups have been withheld because the Grace II. and Jolly Tar, the fourth and fifth, are to be remeasured. There is also a prize for the yachts in the handicap class, and their allowances are based on percentages and have not yet been figured.

The Kittrois, owned by Frank Gheen, won the T. Fleming Day cup for motor boats. Her time was 13 hours 36 minutes 10 seconds. The Eronel, owned by S. Cochrane, was second. Her time was 14 hours 45 minutes, and the Ne Moocha's time was 15 hours 25 minutes. The summaries:

picnic and games. The games were under A. A. U. rules, consequently a lot of the local athletes were to the fore. Martin Sheridan, who is a Mayo man and who halls from the townland of Ballinaschraber, parish of Boholo, was the hero of the hour, and he got a cheer for every move he made.

Martin was out to make smithereens of the record for throwing the discus, but he became overexcited when the neighbors from home shouted the names of places, streams and hills he knew so well, and he fell short of the mark. His best throw taped 135 feet 6 inches, which is more than four feet below the American record.
